EdWay's Learning Authoring and Delivery System (eLADS™)

EdWay's multimedia, interactive learning environment allows learners to complete courses by watching video, interacting with course material, and completing self-assessment modules.

EdWay's eLADS™ multimedia, interactive learning environment utilizes state of the art technology and allows the learner to control the learning environment by accessing courses, anytime, anywhere through a web-based browser. Courses can be completed at the learner's pace, on demand, to meet personalized learning objectives.

EdWay's eLADS™ is a fully hosted, branded online learning delivery system with administrative and technical support, customer access to personalized data and progress reports, rich assessment components, high levels of interaction, scalable to serve thousands of students, adaptive to all types of curricula at all education levels and grades 24/7/365.

The screenshot displays the EdWay Online interface. At the top, there is a navigation bar with a logo and a menu: [4:1 of 3] Previous Next Actions Session:1 Session:2 Session:3 Session:4 Session:5 Session:6 Session:7. Below the navigation bar, there is a video player showing a woman speaking. To the right of the video player, there is a text area with the heading "Benchmarking and Best Practices" and a sub-heading "This URL will supply you with numerous definitions for benchmarking." The text area contains several paragraphs of text, including a quote from the AQC (American Productivity & Quality Center) and a reference to a website called BNET. Below the text area, there is a section for "Additional Resources" with a link to "PowerPoint".
